THE WRECK OF THE MARY DEARE - A Story of the Sea Hammond Innes

The Wreck of the Mary Deare by British author Hammond Innes was adapted as a film starring Gary Cooper released in 1959 by MGM. It tells the story of a very old ship described as "A deathtrap of rattling rivets," which is found adrift at sea by salvageeer John Sands. Sands boards it hoping to claim it for salvage, but finds the first officer, Gideon Patch, still aboard and trying to run the ship on his own. Patch convinces Sands to help him beach the ship, even though it will void his salvage claim. When they return to London, Patch is brought before a board of inquiry to determine what happened. It soon becomes apparent that the ship owners were planning to wreck the Mary Deare all along and have Patch as the fall guy. This is a story that is very well written, and full of suspense, emotion and excitement.
