"Four score and seven years ago" are among the most well-known words in American history. They are the words of Abraham Lincoln. Delivered in late November of 1863, Lincoln began his famed Gettysburg Address by reaching back in time eighty-seven years, to the year of our nation's birth. However, before he finished his first statement, Lincoln would deliver three additional words, reaching further back, to an even earlier event. "An event so important, that without it, the birth of our nation would have never been possible."

What did Lincoln know? What was he trying to tell us? And why, while standing in the midst of so much death and destruction, did he find it so important to "cast a renewed light" on the true genesis of our nation? "Conceived in Liberty", three words within Lincoln's historic dedication to all soldiers, beacons each of us to explore a much earlier message. A message, which in the truest measure has gone unnoticed, until now. "A message delivered in a church that still stands today. In the Church that will stand forever." A message delivered sixteen months before the birth of our nation.

Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness. Creator, Savior, Counselor. Could it be true that within the three unalienable rights endowed to each of us are words meant to identify The Holy Trinity of God?

In this illuminating first offering of the True American Trinity, we are invited to take a renewed look at a brief time in history. From the conception of our nation to the two most important achievements in the entire age of nations. Achievements, which laid the foundation and then constructed upon it, the framework for the world's first authentic Christ-centered government. Within this book, the secular view that our federal government stands alone without a Christian foundation is exposed as a modern day myth while the long forgotten connection between the United States Constitution and the Declaration of Independence is revealed and restored upon the biblical truths, which inspired their divine placement in the world's first "more perfect Union".

A triumphant reunion of faith and nation, Founded and Framed will renew the voice of every Christian American, past, present, and into the future, as it provides clear and conclusive evidence that reclaims the Declaration of Independence and the United States Constitution for the Christian Nation and Christ-centered government, they were authored to create.
